

Sample questions
BHS111

1. Which of the following move throughout the interstitial fluid and consume any bacteria and virus-infected cells they encounter?
 - A) interferons
 - B) erythrocytes
 - C) leukocytes
 - D) macrophages

2. Which of the following by-products of metabolism is most toxic?
 - A) urea
 - B) carbon monoxide
 - C) ammonia
 - D) lactic acid

3. Which of the following is a function of the excretory system?
 - A) detoxification
 - B) elimination of undigested foods
 - C) production of urea
 - D) maintenance of water balance

4. Which of the following is one of the three major categories of sex hormones?
 - A) glucagons
 - B) estrogens
 - C) prolactins
 - D) glucocorticoids

5. In all vertebrates, the brain consists of the
 - A) cerebrum, forebrain, and hindbrain
 - B) forebrain, midbrain, and hindbrain
 - C) cerebrum, midbrain, and hindbrain
 - D) cerebrum, cerebellum, and hindbrain

6. Which of the following attaches the forelimbs to the axial skeleton in a human?
 - A) pelvic girdle
 - B) pectoral (shoulder) girdle
 - C) vertebra
 - D) appendicular skeleton

7. Which of the following is a major category of animal tissue?
 - A) heart
 - B) biceps
 - C) epithelium
 - D) lymph

8. Choose the name of protein digesting enzyme in stomach
 - A) Pepsin
 - B) Trypsin
 - C) Cholecystochinin
 - D) Amaylase

9. Which part of digestive system involves in absorption of digested food?

- A) Stomach
- B) Large intestine
- C) Rectum
- D) Oesophagus

10. An adult human's red blood cells are formed in the

- A) Spleen.
- B) Thoracic cavity
- C) Bone marrow
- D) Liver